Eric Bowers Named Airport Director

(SEDALIA, MISSOURI): The Mayor and City Council met in closed session on Monday, May 22, 2017 in accordance with Missouri Revised Statutes (RSMo) Sections 610.021 (1) & (3) for legal advice and personnel matters. While in closed session, the Council unanimously approved to employ Eric Bowers as the new City of Sedalia Airport Director.

Mr. Bowers holds a Bachelor of Science-Aviation Management degree from Utah Valley University and he expects to receive his Masters in Aeronautical Science from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in a little over a year from now.

“We are fortunate to have someone of Mr. Bowers’ background in the position of Airport Director”, said City Administrator Gary Edwards. “A regional airport is an important economic development asset to a community, and Mr. Bowers, as was the case with his predecessor, has the background to highlight the airport strengths”, concluded Edwards.

Mr. Bowers will begin employment with the City of Sedalia on June 5, 2017. He will be working with John Evans, current Airport Director, until Mr. Evans’ retirement in June, 2017.
