A SEASON OF THANKS

Department News.....Pg 2

November kicks off the holiday season with Thanksgiving! This holiday sometimes gets lost in the shuffle between Halloween and Christmas, not necessarily getting the recognition that it truly deserves. The name itself rearranged is “giving thanks” therefore, what better time to be thankful than during the month of November.

Social media sites often encourage you to list something or someone that you are thankful for each day in November. The great poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson said, “I awoke this morning with devout thanksgiving for my friends, the old and the new.”

Irving Berlin said, “Got no checkbooks, got no banks, still I’d like to express my thanks. I got the sun in the morning and the moon at night.”

It is not the large things in life that we should be thankful for, but the small things like health, family, and our friends.

Often times it’s the little random acts of kindness that touch our heart the most. You don’t get the opportunity to tell that someone who buys your coffee in the drive through line thank you; therefore, you return the favor and pay it forward. This may create a chain of events that touches many others by one person’s simple act of kindness. Former President John F. Kennedy said, "As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words, but to live by them." May we live our life with thankfulness and gratitude in our hearts and display it for all to see.

I believe Reba McEntire summed it up best when she said, “I have a lot to be thankful for. I am healthy, happy and I am loved.”

Have a Happy Thanksgiving!!
